Labor Asked To Support Johnson

Kennedy Seeks Early Support of VP Choice

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy hoped today for an early formal endorsement from organized labor for his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Kennedy won the Democratic presidential nomination with strong backing from labor unions. His choice of Johnson of Texas to run for the vice presidency jolted many of his union backers. Some still are reported to be far from happy about it.

Kennedy scheduled meetings with Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, closely allied with the AFL-CIO and the powerful United Auto Workers Union. The senator also planned to confer with Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and John M. Bailey, chairman of the Connecticut Democratic Committee.

David J. McDonald, president of the 1,000,000-member United Steelworkers Union, said here Monday he expects labor will support Johnson. McDonald had not been in Johnson's corner prior to the convention.

The announced purpose of his visit was to discuss with Kennedy the plight of the steel industry, which the senator said is operating at only 53 per cent of capacity. Kennedy said Congress when it reconvenes Monday could help by passing housing and federal school construction legislation, and by acting to ease credit and reduce interest rates.

McDonald said 100,000 steelworkers are idle and 300,000 are working less than 40-hour weeks.

Kennedy accused the Republican presidential nominee, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, of a "lack of basic beliefs." His statement endorsed one released by his headquarters in the name of nine Midwestern Democratic governors and senators which asserted that Nixon "in the short span of 48 hours since his nomination has repudiated two key parts of (the Eisenhower) administration's program" — on defense spending and farm policy.

The statement cited Nixon's 14-point agreement with Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, on the defense issue, and asserted that Nixon had said Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson "is not good enough for him."

The Democratic nominee accused Nixon of a betrayal of Benson's farm policies, which he said Nixon helped to write and defend but now wants to disown.

West Branch Board OK's School Plans

Preliminary plans for a new West Branch Local High School were adopted by the Board of Education of the West Branch School District at a special meeting Monday night in Beloit.

The board will reconvene tonight to pass the required resolutions for putting the $1,150,000 bond issue on the Nov. 8 ballots.

Walter Frost of the Youngstown architectural firm of Kling, Frost, Priolo and Smith, last night submitted the plan, which is flexible, in accordance with the final amount of available funds.

The proposed school for 850 students would include eight classrooms, three science laboratories, four rooms for commercial studies, library, cafeteria, gymnasium, four home economic rooms, art and drafting rooms, a large wood shop, band and vocal rooms, various storage and health facilities, and offices.

Parking areas will be provided in front and on the side of the school.

A change in the original plans pictured above is the elimination of the top floor of classrooms on the right wing of the school. This section will be built so that an additional floor of 16 rooms can be added in the future.

Among various alternatives is the elimination of the auditorium, shown in the right-front corner of the building sketch.

IN OTHER ACTION last night, five classrooms were rented for the 1960-61 school year.

A room in the Damascus firehouse will be rented for a first grade class, at $11.11 per month, including utilities.

Board members approved rental of a first grade classroom in the Goshen Friends Church in Damascus at $150 per month, including utilities, and custodial services. A first grade room will be provided in the Homeworth Masonic Temple for $150 per month, not including custodial services.

Two rooms, providing places for first and second grade classes were rented in the North Georgetown Community Building for $225 per month, including utilities and custodian.

Twelve teachers were hired on one year contracts. Robert E. Beck will teach grades 7 and 8 at Knox School, and Paul Butch was hired as a social science teacher for West Branch High School. Dorothy Schaffer will be a temporary teacher at Knox. Ellen Wulf, Eleanor Carver, Isabelle Dunlap, Edward Saurman, Joe Wyrick, and Bonnie Summers all were employed as Knox teachers.

Mary Ewing, Ethel Buehler, and Olga Schenk will teach classes at Maple Ridge School. Salaries of the new instructors are based on the existing salary schedule of the school district.

The board approved the hiring of Emmett Weizenacker as custodian of the Beloit School at $3,400 for the coming year.

Cafeteria Meal Price Set
The charge for cafeteria lunches for the coming term was set at 30 cents for students and 35 for adults.

Red Cross Swimming Classes Set Monday

The third session of the Red Cross and Park Commission-sponsored swim classes will begin Monday.

John Dawson, assistant superintendent of parks and recreation, said registrations are underway now. He urged all those wishing to enroll to do so as early as possible as the number of pupils to be accommodated is limited.

The classes will run Monday through Friday for three weeks.

Times are as follows: 9 a. m., intermediate, junior life saving, and swimmers; 10 a. m., beginners, nine years old and over; 11 a. m., beginners, six to eight years old.

adults. Extra milk can be purchased for three cents. Purity Dairy's bid for supplying the schools with milk was accepted at 5 1/2 cents for white milk and 6 cents for chocolate.

The board approved an appropriation of funds for July 1-Dec. 31 totaling $431,556.00. Included in the total is the general fund of

Nixon Attacks Kennedy Tactics

Says Dem Candidate Taking "Low Road"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon today accused Sen. John F. Kennedy, his Democratic rival for the presidency, of following "the low road in the campaign" by discussing personalities instead of issues.

Kennedy at a news conference at Hyannis Port, Mass., Monday had charged Nixon with a "lack of basic beliefs" and a "betrayal" of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's farm policies which Nixon "now wants to disown."

Asked for comment on Kennedy's statements, the Republican presidential nominee replied: "We'll let the people judge that."

"Mr. Kennedy started on the low road in the campaign. He intends to keep on it," he added.

"I am not going to engage in personalities. Regardless of what he does I'm going to stay on the issues."

Nixon talked with newsmen a few minutes before his chartered plane left National Airport on the first leg of a strenuous campaign.

In obvious high spirits, he told an impromptu news conference that he is not disturbed by initial polls which show he is running behind Kennedy.

Nixon said he has a high opinion of Kennedy and doubted that Kennedy wants to engage in personalities.

"But some people around him have egged him on," Nixon continued. "He has to satisfy extremists in his party."

Nixon said he doubts that Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Kennedy's running mate, will engage in personalities during the campaign. He added that Johnson has considerably more experience than Kennedy.

The Republican nominee said he was starting what would be "the most intensive and I guess you can say also the most extensive campaign, ever conducted for the presidency."

He began the Western swing after aligning himself against any big spending measures Democrats might pass to win votes.

Nixon said President Eisenhower plans to veto any massive spending bills the Democratic-controlled Congress might vote for "purely political" reasons after it reconvenes next week. He said he agrees with Eisenhower on this.

Nixon and his wife scheduled an early takeoff for a five-day trip that will include a visit tonight to Nixon's hometown of Whittier, Calif., a traditional campaign stop and a two-day tour of

64 Chinese Feared Dead

Typhoon, Heavy Rains Sweep Across Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Sixty-four Chinese were feared dead on Formosa today in the wake of torrential downpours that followed Typhoon Shirley. The rains slacked off, and thousands of police and troops worked to help isolated communities and more than 50,000 homeless.

Police headquarters said 23 persons were known dead and 12 were missing. Press reports said in addition a driver and 28 members of a Chinese opera troupe were probably drowned when the truck in which they were riding was swept off a bridge in southern Formosa.

A total of 188 injured were reported, eight of them in serious condition. At least two persons also were reported killed in the southern Ryukyu Islands.

Cuba Silent on Successor to Ailing Castro

Anti-U.S. Brother, Raul, Expected to Take Over Control

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government kept silent today on who will take over control from ailing Fidel Castro, but the best bet appeared to be his anti-American younger brother, Raul.

Authorities maintained tight-lipped secrecy following Monday's disclosure that the hearded Prime Minister had laid aside his duties after his doctor ordered him to take a complete rest—"both physical and mental."

Informed sources said Castro, 33, had been finally convinced that he must stop all work to hasten recovery from his three-week illness, officially described as a lung infection. Maj. Raul Trillo, one of two army doctors treating the prime minister, announced he was taking a complete rest, "both physical and mental."

(Some Latin American quarters in Washington speculated that the announcement was meant to prepare Cuba for the Prime Minister's indefinite retirement from public life. There have been persistent reports in Havana — denied by sources close to the Cuban government — that Castro underwent a rectal operation and was found to be suffering from cancer.)

Fidel soon after he came to power officially designated his younger brother as his political heir.

Raul, 28, Cuba's defense minister, has just returned from official visits to the Soviet Union, Communist Czechoslovakia and the United Arab Republic.

Before anyone takes over from Castro, the Cabinet presumably will meet under President Osvaldo Dorticos and order the change. So far there was no indication any such meeting had been called.

Hays, Others to Tour NATO Bases

Congressman Wayne L. Hays of the Ohio 18th District is in charge of the house delegation now en route to Europe to participate in the North American NATO parliamentarians' tour of European NATO bases.

The inspection trip will begin Aug. 10 at Paris.

In addition to being chairman of this delegation, Rep. Hays is also the United States member of the standing committee of the 15-nation NATO parliamentarians' conference.

Other members are Congressmen Frank M. Clark (D-Pa.), D. C. Saund (D-Calif.), John S. Monaghan (D-Conn.), John E. Henderson (R-Ohio), Phil Weaver (R-Neb.), William S. Broomfield (R-Mich.), and William T. Cahill (R-N.J.).

The delegation will confer with M. Paul-Henri Spaak, the NATO secretary-general.

SAUCER DESIGNED TO FLY — The Defense Department released this photograph in Washington, of a saucer-shaped research aircraft being developed for the U.S. Army and Air Force. The Department said the craft is designed to take-off and land vertically, using the air cushion principle, and to fly like a winged plane once it is in the air. The picture was made several months ago at the builder's (A. V. Roe Co.) plant in Canada.

Weatherman Smiles on Farmers

Crops Harvest In District Is Good

With good hay and wheat crops harvested this season by district farmers, the tillers of the soil are counting on rain during the next week or two to insure an equally good corn crop.

District Weather Observer Edwin Copeland, in his summary of July weather conditions, pointed out today that "if we can get an inch of rain for each of the next two weeks, we have in the making something you seldom get in farming: Good crops of all kinds."

Although the July weather was cooler than normal this year, area farmers harvested a good hay crop and one of the best wheat crops in 15 years.

"A lot of the wheat made over 40 bushels per acre compared to last year's average of 20, and some wheat harvested as high as 50 bushels to the acre this year," Copeland said.

Oats, another good crop, is ready to combine. "The corn has the makings of another bumper crop if we get the rain and warmer nights," the weather observer declared. Temperatures last month averaged 66.6 degrees compared to the normal of 70.5 degrees, records show. July a year ago had a warm 70.8 average. A high of 88 degrees was recorded July 26 and a low of 42 on the 16th.

Rainfall last month totaled 4.58 inches, which was slightly above the average of 4.30 inches.

Political violence subsided in South Korea today, and leaders of the caretaker government and the victorious Democratic party decided to convene the new National Assembly on schedule.

Local newspapers had said the Assembly's first meeting would be postponed until Aug. 15 because of the mob violence and ballot box burning that erupted after Friday's parliamentary election and delayed results from 14 of the nation's 233 election districts.

But Prime Minister Huh Chung and three top leaders of the Democrats agreed at a meeting the Assembly would convene Aug. 8 to elect a new national president and prime minister, in accordance with the National Assembly law requiring the first meeting within 10 days of the election.

The Democrats, who won 174 of the 233 seats in the dominant lower house of the Assembly, by today had taken 29 of the 58 seats in the less powerful upper house, and nine seats were still to be decided.

Man Bound Over On Arson Charge
LISBON — Robert Custer Leslie, 20, of Tuscarawas, formerly of East Liverpool RD 2, was bound over to the September Grand Jury Monday by County Judge Luther Dunbar for arson after he allegedly set fire to a barn on the Harry Speidel farm, east of Hanoverton, Friday evening.

Loss of the barn, eight pigs, a ram, a dog and some tools was estimated at between $12,000 and $14,000.

Leslie was picked up at the fire by Deputy James Gause and reportedly admitted setting the fire. He was enroute to his home near Grimm's Bridge from Tuscarawas and had stopped for water, he told the deputies. He set the barn and a shed on fire, deputies said he admitted, when no one answered his knock.

Lisbon Man Cited After Road Mishap

Irvin McGee, 59, of 117 E. Spruce St., Lisbon, was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way after a two-car accident at McCann Rd. and the Franklin Square-Middleton Rd. Monday.

State highway patrolmen at Lisbon said McGee was traveling west on McCann Rd. and turning into the Franklin Square Rd. when his car collided with one driven by Harry Coppock, 26, of 233 Court St., Columbiana. The mishap occurred about one mile north of Rt. 558.

Says Soviet Call For U.N. Parley Is Frivolous

Some Diplomats Hope Proposal Will Bring Ike, Nikita Together

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A U.S. spokesman Monday night rejected a Soviet call for an all-U.N. summit parley on disarmament as a "typically specious and frivolous maneuver." But some diplomats at the U.N. still hoped it might bring President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev together at the conference table.

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge brushed off the Soviet proposal at a news conference at the summer White House in Newport, R.I. Presumably he spoke with the President's authorization.

The Soviet proposal accompanied a Kremlin objection of the American proposal that the 82-member U.N. Disarmament Commission be called into session this month. Lodge said the Soviet reply showed the Soviets "really don't want disarmament."

"The United States made its proposal in good faith," Lodge declared, but the Soviet counter proposal amounts to "a cynical attempt to prevent progress."

Soviet Ambassador Platon D. Morozov called for the summit disarmament meeting in a letter Monday to Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico, chairman of the disarmament commission.

Rejecting Padilla Nervo's call for a commission meeting Aug. 15, Morozov asserted that disarmament talks could only be successful if held at the proper level.

"The Soviet government believes that personal participation of the heads of government of member states of the United Nations in the discussion of the disarmament problem at the General Assembly would answer this purpose best of all," the Soviet letter said.

Diplomats at the U.N. were intrigued by the reversal of Khrushchev's stand after the abortive Paris conference that he would not negotiate with the United States at the summit until Eisenhower left the White House.

Morozov asserted that the U.S. proposal for a disarmament commission session was inspired by "considerations connected with the internal situation in the United States."

It said the U.S. government wanted the meeting "to conceal its unwillingness to achieve an agreement on this question."

Boy Faces Rabies Shots Unless Dog Is Found

Mrs. Charles Krebs of 468 S. Broadway Ave. urged today that the owner of a black and white cocker spaniel which might have been running loose in the A and P Store area last week contact her, in order to spare her son the necessity of taking anti-rabies inoculations.

The boy, Teddy Albright, 15, was bitten on the left arm by the dog Saturday as he was walking in an alley alongside the store. The animal's teeth penetrated a vein.

Mrs. Krebs said her son will begin taking the inoculations soon if the dog isn't identified and found to be free of rabies. A similar incident occurred several weeks ago when the daughter, Chesney, 5, of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Zellers of 1220 Franklin Ave. was bitten by a stray cat and the owner was never found. The cat later escaped from a pen at the pound of Humane Officer A. H. Fultz.

The girl took all 14 rabies shots as recommended by a physician.

Wellsville Man Held On Charge of Sodomy

LISBON — David Dewayne Petty, 20, of Wellsville RD 1, was bound over to the September Grand Jury Monday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on a charge of sodomy. Bond was set at $1,500.

Petty was arrested for setting fire to a sawmill, about five miles out of Wellsville, last month, along with a 14-year-old Wellsville boy. The juvenile was placed with relatives by Judge Tobin at a hearing this morning.

The Great Issues: National Economy

Candidates Differ on Road to Rapid Growth

Editor's Note—What's the proper growth rate for the U. S. economy? What about budget balancing the government spending? Taxes and inflation? Here is the bread and butter issues of the coming campaign, and here's an analysis of the presidential candidates' approach to them. Another in a series of articles on principal issues.

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Other issues may make blacker headlines as the presidential campaign advances, but the biggest gulf between the Democratic and Republican standard-bearers is on the issue of national economic policy.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts has moved steadily closer to the extreme liberal wing of the Democratic party in his career of nearly 14 years in Congress.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is proud to call himself "conservative—conservative for progress." On few issues has he departed noticeably from the Eisenhower administration's line of fiscal prudence and least possible interference with the free economy.

On one basic objective the two young candidates concur — more rapid national economic growth.

They differ in the routes to be taken to the goal.

Kennedy invites the voters to rally behind the banner of easier money, federal outlays to stimulate income, consumption and employment, and higher taxes if need be to meet "national responsibilities" at home or overseas.

Nixon stands for "fiscal responsibility"; stern use of the tight-money weapon against inflation; and higher taxes only if the cold war or other emergency need requires greater government spending.

But Nixon himself seems to have been pushed leftward by political pressures, through his concessions to the liberal platform demands of New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, on the eve of the Republican National Convention.

However, Kennedy and Nixon still stand so far apart on so many issues that many voters are likely to think of them in terms of the loose labels, "liberal" and "conservative."

Great Issues Adv. Tues Aug. 2

Here are some of the principal areas of conflict between the two: GROWTH Kennedy wants the growth target set at a 5 per cent increase in national production each year—and a national policy that the government will bend itself to achieving the goal. He concurs in the Democratic platform pledge to move swiftly against recessions by "public works or temporary tax cuts."

Nixon wants about the same growth rate, but would be content with 5 per cent annually as an average. He denounces the Kennedy approach as "growth mania," leading to inflation and inviting economic collapse. He holds that "government intervention" is not the route to economic expansion.

TAXES Both men prefer higher taxes to deficit spending if national needs compel a choice. Statements of the two suggest that Nixon would be slower to favor tax increases for nonsecurity reasons. Kennedy holds that tax rises can be avoided by keeping the economy booming and producing more tax revenues. On specific tax issues the divergence is sharp. Nixon favors tax changes which would stimulate growth and business investment. He has endorsed more liberal depreciation laws, and called for reduction of higher-bracket income rates.

Kennedy has spoken out for the closing of "loopholes," the lowering of depletion allowances, repeal of the credit for dividend income, and tighter policing of expense accounts.

MONEY POLICY Kennedy is opposed to tight money and high interest rates. He fought removal of the interest ceiling on government bonds, and was one of several senators who tried this year to get the Federal Reserve Board committed to a policy of easier credit.

Nixon denounces the idea of pegging interest rates "at artificially low levels. We say that this policy would in the long run wreck the economy, not expand it."

HOUSING Kennedy has voted for public housing, liberalized mortgage credit, slum clearance and housing for the elderly. Nixon has spoken out on occasion against Democratic housing bills which, in his view, would have been costly and inflationary.

INFLATION Both consider inflation a major—if not the foremost—domestic problem. Nixon favors orthodox methods of keeping prices down—restraint in federal spending, contraction of credit, use of persuasion to keep wage settlements reasonable.

Kennedy subscribes to the Democratic platform demand for restraints on "administered pricing"—the ability of some industries to maintain and increase prices regardless of demand. Nixon, as head of the anti-inflation committee, has rejected the theory that administered prices have been a major factor in the inflation of the postwar year.

FBI Denies Search For Whereabouts Of Security Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI says it is not checking on the whereabouts of two U.S. National Security Agency employees who left for a vacation in the West and apparently went to Mexico instead.

Bernon F. Mitchell, 31, and William H. Martin, 29, began their vacations on June 24 and were due back in mid-July. They have not contacted their families nor the agency since they left.

Authorities said the men, both single, booked plane passage to Mexico City on June 25. A check of Mexico City hotels Monday showed they had registered there but later had left.

The two worked as junior mathematicians at the Ft. Meade, Md., Communications Intelligence Agency.

Soviets Claim to Have Captured A U.S. Spy In Iran

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviets today claimed to have captured an American spy they said was ordered to ferret out locations of Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles and air defense installations.

The man was identified as V. M. Slavnov but the announcement by the National Security Committee did not give his nationality. It said he was captured in June as he tried to cross the border into Iran.

There was no immediate comment from either State Department or Central Intelligence Agency sources in Washington.

The announcement said Slavnov had been given special training in espionage in American intelligence schools in Limburg and Pussen, West Germany.

The security committee said Slavnov was to settle down in Leningrad and collect and transmit classified information on important defense and industrial installations in the Soviet Union.

The announcement said another part of Slavnov's mission was to obtain Soviet passports, identification cards, party and youth organization cards and the like for future spies headed for the Soviet Union.

Commissioners Seek Royalties on County Oil

Columbiana County commissioners Monday requested the prosecutor to take action against C. F. Ellyson of East Rochester who allegedly is behind in royalty payments to the county on oil taken from the county home farm.

Commissioners said he owes royalties since July 1, 1959. The county had been getting approximately $80 every six-month period.

Commissioners said they sent him a letter asking him to catch up by Aug. 1, which he failed to do.

People You Should Know ..

Paul Hardin

By VIRGINIA HURRAY

Paul Hardin was employed in a Youngstown steel mill eight years ago when his doctor advised him to get into other work.

"The only thing I could think to do was drive a cab," relates Hardin.

But he couldn't work as a taxi driver in just any city. The town had to be big enough to support the taxi business and yet not be so big that he couldn't memorize the streets in a few weeks time.

"I knew I'd have to do some fast memorizing because I can't read very well," he relates.

So, Hardin came to Salem, a "just right" city he had decided he liked when he once passed through enroute to Canton.

HE WOKED AS A driver here two years before he became cab company owner. He now has a fleet of eight scarlet colored taxis. A lot of Salmites know Hardin.

Paul (Red) Hardin

although they've never heard his real name. Most folks simply call him "Red." Hardin knows many Salem people, although he has never heard their names. He knows their faces and he knows where people work and live. Moreover, because the taxi business is what it is, he knows something about the townfolks' movie and church preference, too.

It's a safe bet that "Red" knows the location of the streets and avenues of Salem better than most natives. He learned about places in this city without being able to read the signs.

HARDIN originally lived in Andover, N.C., a town whose population is less than half that of Salem's. He reveals that when he was eight years old he had to quit school because of his mother's illness.

ness. There were three younger children in the family and his help was needed at home.

Hardin meets a wide variety of people in his work and finds it not difficult to like most of them.

"But I admit I might not get along real well with any man I know is lazy. Particularly do I find it hard to understand a man who has the chance for a good education and doesn't make use of it," he declared.

Two years ago "Red" and Mrs. Hardin bought a house at 232 W. 10th St. Their son, Rickie Lee, will enter first grade at Buckeye School this fall.

Nixon

Hawaii, the nation's newest state. But the first stop will be to honor Mrs. Nixon. Her native state has planned a "Pat Nixon Day" at Reno, Nev.

Before heading for the campaign trails, Nixon visited Eisenhower late Monday at the summer White House at Newport, R.I.

The vice president announced Eisenhower had assured him he would veto any massive spending bills the Democratic-controlled Congress might pass for "purely political" reasons.

Nixon said the President would consider big spending measures as purely political unless they carried with them increased taxes to pay the bill.

He indicated that even if such measures included tax provisions, Eisenhower would veto them unless he regarded them as in the public interest.

U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, the GOP vice-presidential nominee, accompanied Nixon on the trip to Newport.

X Marks the Political Spot

There has been the usual promise of the greatest presidential campaign in history, but it doesn't mean much unless something is going to be substantially different.

If campaign technique never changed at all, population growth alone would make each presidential campaign the "greatest" in history. But in 1932 and before that in 1928, radio gave politics a voice in American living rooms. In the 19th century, the railroad train furnished a new plus-factor.

In 1952, aviation put wings on politicians and made it possible for them to fly where they wanted to be in a few hours. In 1948, television gave them an image to present in a fireside environment. But these things are commonplace now.

What's new?
There will be planes in 1960, but there also will be trains. Radio and television will be used more than before. But these are not new.

The new thing seems likely to be emphasis on something so old that newcomers are unfamiliar with it—something as old as Tammany Hall. It is the political machine set up, geared and operated to get out every possible vote.

THE DEMOCRATIC party, thanks to its close alliance with labor unions, has been doing a good job on this; unions are made to order for the intensive work needed to canvass voters.

The Republican party has had a serious weakness in this regard. Not only has it been less than efficient in lining up voters potentially favorable to its candidates. It has been less than efficient in lining up all voters known to be favorable to its candidates. It has not even registered them.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona pointed out to his fellow Republicans in Chicago that many Republicans who share his conservative views have been sulking in their tents, mindless of the fact their only chance is to keep the Republican party going, because Democrats have veered so far toward socialism conservatives can find no refuge there.

ORGANIZATION at the precinct level is likely to be new thing in the 1960 campaign. It will not be speeches, which are useful only for firing up the enthusiasm of party workers. It will be the drab work of getting voters to use ballots.

The Kennedy technique in this respect was unusually effective in the 1960 primaries. It will be stressed even harder in the election. The Nixon technique is unproved, but Republican National Chairman Thruston Morton has been telling everybody who would listen that he considers this kind of chore work to be the foundation of politics.

Speeches, debates, stimulation, high principles and the sometimes low trappings of the political art don't win elections. Only one thing in politics matters—a voter marking an X on a ballot—preferably in the place where it will do the most good for the party that jarred him out of his apathy.

Without X's on the right spots, everything else that goes on in the name of politics is futile.

Not the First Standoff

This week, there will be another review of the fateful decision to drop the A-bomb on Hiroshima, Aug. 6 is the 15th anniversary of the "shock heard 'round the world."

Every judgment made since 1945 has been academic. The decision President Truman made was immediate and urgent; he could not indulge in hair-splitting, nor could he peer into the future any further than his responsibility as commander-in-chief of the armed forces would let him look.

His duty was to defeat Japan as quickly as possible with the weapons at hand. Hence, the decision to drop the first Atom bomb on Hiroshima and the second on Nagasaki.

There was room for decision about the target, but not about the use of the weapon. Henry L. Stimson's still unpublished diary is reported to say that Kyoto, ancient cultural center of Japan, was set aside as first target choice by the argument that its destruction would be unforgivable, whereas industrial cities like Hiroshima and Nagasaki could be rebuilt as functional manufacturing centers.

No one in America ever has dared to hope the Japanese people would forgive the annihilation of so many of their countrymen that the count still is uncertain—59,853 at Hiroshima and 73,884 at Nagasaki known to have died and as many as 200,000 others unaccounted for or who died later.

This is something Americans have preferred to shut out of their minds; they do not want to think about the depth and breadth of Japanese feeling against their country. It has been more pleasant to dwell on the evidence that Japan has been cooperating with the United States and that even its Tokyo riots were manufactured by Communists, with no assistance by the Japanese, themselves.

No common decision ever has been reached on the incident at Hiroshima. No common decision can be reached, because the divergent elements in post-war opinions are irreconcilable. President Truman did what he had to do in the circumstances. Those who wish the circumstances had been different and refuse to recognize them as they were in 1945 are begging the question.

They are judging from an assumption that never existed and never could have existed in the mind of the commander-in-chief at the climax of a costly war against a resolute foe.

Oh, to Be a Young Ballplayer!

Nothing intrigues baseball buffs like the possibility of expanding the major leagues. Because it also intrigues influential and persistent members of Congress and some of the members of the U.S. Supreme Court, it's a lively subject.

One way or another, major league baseball is going to take in more territory, to prove it's thinking about the future with an open and therefore not monopolistic mind. Either the National and American leagues will add a couple of clubs apiece to their circuits, or a third league will be forced to bloom.

It seems not to have occurred to anyone that the American Association is already in existence, with Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul and Dallas-Fort Worth represented—places also being eyed by expansionists in the National and American leagues. There could be a National, an American and a Federal league, but that would be oversimplifying the difficulties.

Once Over

If Jack Kennedy wins the presidency, the White House will find more children romping around than at any time since Teddy Roosevelt, when it was said there were ponies and pony-carts in corridors. Kennedy family keynote is "togetherness," and Bob Kennedy alone has close to a dozen kids. Longfellow's "Children's Hour" could be revised:

Between the dark and the daylight
When the night is beginning to lower,
Come a break in the White Hooeeeee
That is known as the children's hour.

I hear in the halls of the building
The pater of little feet
And the merry cries of the kiddies,
"This place has our Boston beat."

A "whooshing" noise on the stairway...
The bannisters swing and sway
As the children ride them swiftly
And drive global cares away.

They swarm from the famous Blue Room;
Around Lincoln's bed they race;
The prance under famous portraits
Unmoved by each solemn face.

The White House rocks to their antics
Recalling the days gone by;
(Jack cries from his cellar refuge
"I can't find peace BUT CAN TRY.")

CHICAGO MEDICAL ASSN. says doctors are charging patients for phone calls. If we get such a bill we intend to file a counter

The difficulties are the province of owners, who must worry about customers even more than they must worry about ballplayers. But before they can get customers they will have to get ballplayers—and oh to be a young ballplayer at a time like this!

There will be more solidarity in Latin American relations than ever before, thanks to baseball's "ivory hunters." There will be less segregation here at home, thanks to baseball. Every kid who can scoop 'em out in the field and bang them out at the plate will have a chance to prove he's a major leaguer, regardless of race, religion, or color.

The catch is they've always been proving it, but as any baseball buff will tell you on or about the 7th inning when his team's losing there still are more clowns in the major leagues than there used to be in the circus.

Where, oh where, will the big leaguers be found to prove that baseball needs no law to make it open its gates to paying customers?

Where, oh where, will the big leaguers be found to prove that baseball needs no law to make it open its gates to paying customers?

claim for time lost trying to get him. Patient can bring on a relapse striving to get the nurse, secretary or other outer-guard on the phone. Competent doctors are so surrounded by personnel that it is a trick to establish contact even by radar. Sample routine:

Patient—Hello and it's nice to know somebody has answered. I wish to speak to the doctor.

Nurse—Who doesn't? He's very busy. Unless it's an emergency you'll have to see him by appointment.

Patient—I saw him by appointment but the druggist can't read the prescription and I want the doctor to spell it for me.

Nurse—This is not the doctor's day for spelling.

Patient—Can I reach him by walkie-talkie?

Nurse—I think not. May I take he message?

Patient—Just tell him that I was feeling better but the train of trying to get him by phone has brought on a RELAPSE.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

One of the men who directs Rockefeller Center is Victor Riesel's guest columnist today. He is Victor Biorella, the executive vice president.

By VICTOR BIORELLA
A quarter of a century has elapsed since the Wagner Act made collective bargaining the law of the land and gave workers "full freedom of association." It was hailed by labor as a 20th century "Magna Charta" and by industry as a piece of legislation that would shackle our economy.

Were either of these predictions correct?
Where are we now in our labor-management relations and where do we go from here?

Labor unions have grown in numbers and strength and power. But the road has not been easy. Even with the law behind them they had massive and often bitter struggles to gain recognition.

While our over-all economic progress in the past few years indicates management has not been "shackled," there is no question that increased unionization has had a limiting influence on the freedom of industrial policy making.

Yet we have had a generally steady growth as a nation; the well being of the worker has improved tremendously both as a wage earner and in security benefits and business and industry have not had to impair their profit margins.

This, of course, is a generalization.

THE RAPID CHANGES in our way of living brought about by technological improvements and other factors has adversely affected ed the position of some industries but this cannot be attributed to union or management practices.

If people choose to travel in their own cars and ship by truck instead of by rail, our railroads bear the brunt of this change.

But who would wish to give up freedom of choice — one of the great boons of a democratic capitalistic system?

But we should not be misled by the surface factors in our economic progress.

Labor today faces a magnitude of problems and is still in the throes of uniting craft and industrial unionism.

It is not a simple matter to harmonize two distinct philosophies in the trade union movement and in addition achieve the objective of a close working relationship of strong and ambitious personalities.

Management in 1960 finds itself at a crossroads too. It is faced with stiff foreign competition among other things.

Many of the younger executives, who have grown up negotiating with strong unions, though not necessarily happy about the situation, would like to work out a rational relationship, because they are essentially happy about the situation, realistic enough to know that unions in industry are here to stay.

They are sometimes blocked by their superiors, who are still bitter about union organization and have lingering hopes of somehow weakening unions to impotent shadows of their present selves. Such employers are relatively few but are powerful.

SO WE FIND our nation's labor-management setup in not only an unhappy but an unfortunate stance to meet the truly great challenges of our time. To name but a few:

1. The missile and military challenge of the Soviet bloc.
2. Foreign economic competition.
3. Domestic economic growth necessary to absorb the "population explosion" of the war years and strengthen our position against the above challenges.

There is ample evidence that the thinking leaders in government, industry and labor are worried about the situation and would like to do something about it.

George Meany's request for a summit meeting of labor and management was a solid step in the right direction but whether the postponed meeting will be productive is still a moot question. This is unfortunate because time is being lost.

In an atomic-missile age we cannot make up for lost time.

But summit meetings of all kinds to date have been productive of little but propaganda. So perhaps we should begin at the base instead of the summit.

The heart of the labor movement is the local union. While the international officers have a great moral persuasive voice, they do not have real power over most locals.

WHY NOT START the Meany idea at the community level between local business and labor leaders. The purpose — to discuss all of the problems facing both sides in the future — but discussed in an atmosphere away from the bargaining table and in-between the contract period. From the community level, to the state level — and then on to the national level.

We believe that success at the grass roots will carry the impact upward in the labor movement with greater vigor than the other way around.

But before any success can be achieved at any plateau, we must have an honest attempt by both labor and management to forget their past differences and to try to understand each other better and not approach every problem at arm's length and with mutual suspicion.

Reflection on a Nation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Closer Look Sees a Vibrant America

Thoughts that come to one's mind after spending three weeks away from the national capital, thoughts of an America seen at first hand—how different it really appears from the image portrayed again and again by some of the "intellectuals" in our midst! It does anyone good to come down to earth—to visit the grass roots and talk with the citizens themselves.

After months of reading essays and listening to speeches about how America is in a state of "moral decay," of how our "affluent" society is causing us to deteriorate and how we are losing that indefinable something called "prestige" in the world, it was inspiring to see America as it really is.

For the men and women who are at work every day, faithfully giving their energies and their minds to the job at hand, don't show signs of lagging or faltering. Most of them are not driving around in power-steering autos. A vast number still have "used cars" that manage to get them to and from work and provide a Sunday afternoon excursion to the country.

THE PHYSICAL appearance of America isn't bad either. There are lots of undeveloped areas, lots of places where new buildings and homes would be desirable. But our eyes must not overlook the vast improvement in living standards, or the better homes, with well-kept lawns, the better streets and the better roads that have made America a land unsurpassed in this world.

Luxuries are coming along fast enough, and human beings will never cease to crave more comforts — not stimulus of government is necessary to encourage such desires or aspirations.

The lofty debate about America's "standing in the world" is too vague for the average man to understand. He is far more concerned about what is happening right here at home. For population is growing. Episodes of friction between races are naturally increasing in number because there are more people everywhere.

True enough, there is more crime and more juvenile delinquency—an increasing population would account for much of it—and there can be no doubt that broken marriages and disrupted home life have contributed much toward bringing mental disturbances among young and old.

But despite the healthy discussion of our faults, it is important to maintain a sense of proportion—to have a perspective that looks at all and not just some of the facts.

FOR THE FACTS are that America is a vibrant country. Its people are not degenerating because of increased comforts. Their moral position is not to be disparaged because a small fraction manage to steal in the stores or the banks or to allow "payola" to influence their careers.

The fact is that more men and women and children go to church today than ever in our history. They may not always practice what they hear preached, but their attendance in a place of worship indicates their yearning for the spiritual help that God can give them.

The life of the American is not an unhappy one in a general sense. Individual happiness, of course, is a matter of individual adjustment to the problems that press upon one from every side.

On my 6,000-mile train trip I talked with many people who didn't know I was a newspaperman. They talked freely of their work, of their hopes and ambitions, and of their country.

I remember, for example, especially a conversation with a young policeman who was working as a chauffeur during his vacation time so as to earn a little more money for his wife and two young children.

I asked him about the hazards of his job, for he patrolled the dangerous section of a big city. I asked him about his pay.

He has about $100 a week left after the usual deduction for taxes and insurance. I asked him how he got along on that amount.

"Well," he replied, "my wife and I are very careful. We budget every nickel. We have to. But we get along all right."

I asked about his previous work. He had served 10 years in the Navy. I asked about his outlook on life in general. He was looking ahead hopefully. There was no sign of discouragement—no feeling that his country is deteriorating.

IN THE OBSERVATION car of the train, I talked with a young lady of 23 who had majored in political science at Northwestern University. She had watched the proceedings of both conventions. She was intensely interested. She was on vacation from work in a business office. How did she like the speeches? Whom would she vote for? She replied:

"I thought Kennedy's speech of acceptance was marred by his personal attacks on Nixon. As for Nixon's speech, I wish he had prepared it in advance instead of speaking it off the cuff. The occasion demanded more dignity. I haven't made up my mind yet whom I shall vote for. It's to be my first vote for president. I want so much to do the right thing."

Youth is necessarily critical. It has higher ideals than the politicians realize. But, above all, fresh from a study of the history of the United States, it yearns for true statesmanship and a turn from hypocrisy to honesty.

Young and old will tell you in their own words that the true satisfaction in life come from honesty and integrity and a spirit of readiness to help one another. And, above all, there is a confidence in self-reliance, which, incidentally, is by no means a vanishing ideal.

In these days of new "nationalism" in erstwhile colonial areas, it is a lesson in self-discipline that many observers, abroad as well as at home, need to re-emphasize. For it takes time and hard work to make a mature people and a mature country.

You Don't Say

NEW YORK — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

It's no wonder girls are more in a hurry to marry than boys—age counts against them more. At 30 she has only 55 chances out of a hundred. At 30, a man still has 72 chances out of 100 of finding a mate.

Despite the outcry against conformity, we aren't a people satisfied to live as in the past. The U.S. Patent Office gets about 90,000 applications a year for new products, processes and gadgets invented to improve our way of life.

One of the privileges of being president of the United States is that you are traditionally immune from being arrested — at least while you are in office.

Now that the whooping crane appears to be slowly winning its fight for survival, bird lovers hope the trumpeter swan will start blowing its own bugle again. It is believed that fewer than 1,000 trumpeter swans are left in America.

When coffee was first introduced into the American colonies in 1667, it was so expensive only the rich could afford it.

Our quotable notables: "Grief can take care of itself," said Mark Twain, "but to get the full value of joy you must have somebody to share it with."

Marry a blue-eyed girl if you want a wife who won't be easily hurt. Blue-eyed people are least sensitive to pain, brown-eyed people most sensitive.

Another thing about eyes: Tests confirm the old folk belief that liars are generally more shifty-eyed than honest men. On the other hand, veteran cops say bold criminals often develop an unflinching gaze — probably as a self-defense.

A timeless wisecrack: "The extreme penalty of bigamy," a British lord chief justice once remarked, "is two mothers-in-law."

150th Anniversary Marked By Trinity Friends Church

The Salem First Friends Men's Quartet sang special numbers when the Trinity Friends Church, west of Lisbon, observed its 150th anniversary Sunday. The quartet is composed of Clifford Aiken, Robert Grams and Milford and Ralph Landwert. They were accompanied by Mrs. Robert L. Stratton, also of Salem.

Speakers for the celebration were Dr. Walter R. Williams of Damascus, superintendent of Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends; the Rev. C.C. Shaffer; Max Gard, county commissioner; and the Rev. John Powell, the pastor. Rev. Powell presided and also was leader for the group singing.

There were vocal numbers by Mrs. Powell, the Rev. and Mrs. Powell, and by a group from the Lisbon Nazarene Church.

The Rev. Lawrence Linton of Salem, retired Friends minister and a former pastor of Trinity Church, had a part in the evening service.

Mr. Gard reviewed a history of the church, Trinity Church was first affiliated with a Lutheran denomination and later was changed to a Reformed Church. In 1928 it was closed and reopened in 1933 as interdenominational. Eight years ago, the congregation joined with the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends.

At the afternoon service, there were a number of former members in attendance. Around 20 of them had attended the centennial observance 50 years ago, it was said.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Frantz of RD 1, Lisbon have an unusual attendance record. Mr. Frantz has a 65-year attendance record and Mrs. Frantz has a 40-year record in the church. They are the parents of 12 children, all of whom have been reared in this church. All but one of the 12 children are living. Most of their children and grandchildren were at the afternoon service, making approximately 40 of the family present. Mrs. Frantz holds the office of overseer in the church. She is the former Clara Ressler of Salem.

Rev. Powell has resigned his position at Trinity Church and will move Thursday to Salina, where he has accepted a call from the Salina Friends Church. The Rev. Mark Headland, pastor of the Byhalia Friends Church, will succeed Mr. Powell.

A special meeting of the Beloit Village Council was held recently to discuss the possibility of a new town hall and sanitary sewer system.

Cub Pack 82 and their families held a jubilee at Westville Lake. A picnic supper was enjoyed by the group.

The annual fireman's picnic was held at the Berlin Lake cottage of Mr. and Mrs. William Doolan and Mr. and Mrs. Orlan John.

Services at the Friends Church were dismissed for the week to allow members to attend the Sebring Camp Meeting.

Youngstown Kitchens F Team Advances to State Tourney

Beats Alliance Outfit 3-1

Kresge's Is Winner Of Class H Title

Youngstown Kitchens' entry in the Class F Hot Stove League will represent this district in the state tournament at Lorain beginning next weekend.

The youngsters from Salem made certain that Monday night when they downed the Alliance Fire Department in the District finals at Alliance 3-1, behind the excellent one-hit pitching of Milton Moffett.

In other tournament action, Kresge's won the district championship in Class H by downing Alliance Structural 12-10 in a slugfest at Alliance. Kresges had already won its way to the state tournament and played last night only to determine the district champ.

The Kitchens' Moffett was hitting the target well last night, never allowing more than two men to be on base at any one time. The only run came off him in the seventh and final inning when Alliance's Shaffer scored first on an infield out and a walk. He gave up his only hit in the 4th.

The Kitchens' scoring started in the fourth when they bunched four hits. Clyde Stoffer and Burt Sutter got back to back singles and scored after one man was retired on a single by Moffett. Terry Rush also singled in the big inning.

The locals scored again in the seventh when Stoffer led off with a single and came home on an infield out and a walk.

In the Kresge-Alliance contest, the Salem boys started off in the first inning by scoring three runs on one hit by Simpson, two walks, an error, and a hit batsman. They scored three more in the second on hits by Paxson and Simpson, an error and a fly ball.

In the third, Altomare led off with a double, advanced on a popper, Big inning for the winners came in the fourth when they scored five runs on hits by Paxson, Bezeridi, Daily and Altomare, coupled with an error on a ball hit by Simpson.

Alliance's big show came in the fourth also when they scored four runs on three hits including a double by Hulles. It was his second two bagger of the night.

Perry Allows Only Five Hits As Tribe Beats Senators 3-0

WASHINGTON (AP) — What's wrong with the Cleveland Indians? By pitching a five-hit shutout in the Indians' 3-0 triumph over Washington Monday night, Jim Perry (12-5) proved—at least for one night—that all is well with the team.

But General Manager Frank Lane feels Cleveland has dropped out of pennant contention because of the failure of three players to produce—pitcher Gary Bell and outfielders Tito Francona and Harvey Kuenn.

Has Jimmy Piersall's antics so disturbed his teammates that they have won only seven of the last 24 games? "No," says Lane. "Piersall has driven in 52 runs. Has any other player on the club driven in more?"

"Our pitching has killed us," said Francone, "and Bell has been the biggest disappointment. I don't know what the answer is with him. He keeps getting worse."

"Bell won 12 games in 1958 and 16 last year, so we thought he would continue to improve, but he hasn't. The way he's pitching now, he won't even win 16 this year."

Bell won five of his first six games, but now has a 9-9 record. Concerning Francone, Lane said: "I didn't think Tito would hit .363 again, but I did think he'd drive in more runs than he has and help us more with his bat (290)."

"He has hit in the cleanup spot about 90 per cent of the time and has driven in only 43 runs. Last year he hit 20 homers and now he has six."

And what about Kuenn, whom Lane got from Detroit in the trade for star slugger Rocky Colavito?

"Harvey is hitting more than 50 points under his 1959 average (.353 vs. .297). Part of this is because he has been hampered by injuries of one form or another," Lane said, adding:

"But we'd be a lot closer now if he did approximately what he did last year (when he was the league's top batter)."

Lane also traced Cleveland's downfall to the loss of shortstop Woodie Held, who broke a finger July 18. The team has won only four out of 13 games since that time.

"Mike de la Hoz has done a good job filling in," Lane said. "But we miss Held nevertheless."

The rookie shortstop banged out two hits Monday night, scored one run and knocked in another. He's hitting .393.

The Indians scored two runs in the second inning on singles by Piersall and de la Hoz, a passed ball and a two-run single by Bubba Phillips. The latter played left field as a replacement for Francone, who has a leg injury.

The final run scored in the sixth when Piersall singled, stole second and rode home on de la Hoz's single.

Perry's whitewash job was his third of the season—all against the Senators. The 24-year-old fireballer struck out four and didn't issue a single walk.

Don Newcombe, acquired Friday night from the Cincinnati Reds, makes his pitching debut for the Indians tonight against Camilo Pascual.

There was no action in the National League.

Ron Hansen, a rookie and Gene Woodling, a veteran, collaborated to lead the Orioles to their narrow victory. Hansen opened their seventh with a double and scored the tie-breaking run on Woodling's pinch single.

Milt Pappas, who pitched hitless ball through the last five innings, was credited with his ninth victory. He has lost eight.

Although his White Sox lost, Manager Al Lopez was heartened by the pitching of Herb Score, who went all the way, giving up only seven hits. Better yet, he fanned nine and did not walk a batter.

Ken Stein smacked a triple and a double in his first two trips to the plate for the only Home Furniture hits as he and his teammates dropped Dairy Isle, 11-1. Next to Stein, the biggest element in the Furniture attack was the wildness of the Dairy Isle's pitchers who gave up 13 walks.

Orioles Jolt White Sox 2-1

Yanks, Athletics Also Win Contests

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Richards' surprising Orioles appear to have hit upon a winning formula which may pay off in the first pennant in Baltimore's brief American League history.

Actually, it's a double-aimed plan—win the close ones and knock off the top team.

The third-place Birds followed the blueprints to the letter Monday night, defeating the front running Chicago White Sox 2-1.

It was their 26th victory in 38 one-run decisions this year. It also was their ninth triumph over the White Sox in 16 meetings. No club has a better record in close games and no club has made a better showing against Chicago this year.

New York's runner-up Yankees trimmed Chicago's margin to a half game with a 3-2 triumph over the Detroit Tigers. Cleveland's fourth place Indians climbed to within six games of the top with a 3-0 victory over Washington. Kansas City outlasted Boston 10-8 in 10 innings.

There was no action in the National League.

Ron Hansen, a rookie and Gene Woodling, a veteran, collaborated to lead the Orioles to their narrow victory. Hansen opened their seventh with a double and scored the tie-breaking run on Woodling's pinch single.

Chicago (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds' youth movement is going to continue even though the team has shown no signs of coming out of a long slump.

"They (the youngsters) can do no worse," said Manager Fred Hutchinson as he pointed to hitting and defensive lapses by the veterans.

Although he didn't come up with that old "wait until next year" expression in so many words, Hutchinson said continued use of the rookies would give them the experience to make them of "great value" next season.

In line with going with the rookies, the Redleg manager planned to start Jim Maloney against the Chicago Cubs here today. Maloney made his major league debut against the Los Angeles Dodgers last week and allowed only one run in seven innings.

Claude Osteen, the 20-year-old Reading, Ohio, youngster who has been with the Reds all season but who has seen little action until a few recent relief jobs, also may make a pitching start here.

Still another youthful starter in one of the games here may be Jake Azcue, 21-year-old catcher called up Monday from Jersey City of the International League.

To make room for Azcue, the Reds sent catcher Dutch Dotterer to Jersey City. The 28-year-old Dotterer was hitting only .223 in 33 games and had been guilty of numerous fielding and throwing miscues.

If Azcue's first appearance as the starting catcher should come when one of the young pitchers is working, just take a look at the ages of what could be the Cincinnati starting lineup:

Jay Hook (23), Jim O'Toole (23), Osteen (20) or Maloney (20) as the pitcher; Azcue (21), catcher; Gordon Coleman (26), first base; Eddie Kasko (28), second base; Chico Cardenas (21), Shortstop; Cliff Cook (23), third base; Frank Robinson (24), left field; Vada Pinson (21), center field and Gus Bell (31) or Wally Post (31), right field.

Coleman now has been in eight games for the Reds and Cook and Cardenas in seven. They have a collective batting average of over .300 with Coleman hitting .323, Cardenas .308 and Cook .292.

Horseshoe Tourney To Open This Week

MUNCIE, Ind. (AP)—Ray Martin of Philo, Ill., led about 50 horseshoe pitchers who attempted to qualify Monday for the world and national horseshoe pitching championships here.

Martin scored 521 points and had 163 rings out of 200 tosses. The top 36 in four days of qualifying move into Class A match play later this week, and the next 24 will compete in Class B match play.

Italian Club, Carl's Tavern 'A' Winners

Old Dutch Beer defeated Shaffer Ford 5-0 and Herron Transfer tripped Stepanic's Tavern 6-3 in Class AA playoff games at Kelley Field Monday night.

In Class A contests, Italian Club trampled Eagles 12-2, and Carl's Tavern walked over Theron's IGA 11-0.

In the Stepanic's Herron's contest, the former got two runs in the first inning on two hits and an error, but Herron's surged ahead in its half of the first by tallying four runs on Jim Barnes' two-run corner and Roger Stille's two-run double.

Roger Wyss brought in Herron's fifth tally in the third frame, and Gerry Weizenecker's bouncer in the sixth hiked the count to 6-2.

Ed Stefane's ground rule double brought in a Stepanic tally in the fifth.

Henry Miller hurled four-hit ball as Old Dutch blanked Shaffer Ford. Poor Shaffer fielding contributed to its loss.

Old Dutch got a run in the first on a hit and error, picked up four in the fifth on a hit, a walk, and, after two outs and two errors, a double by Larry Burwell and a triple by Jerry Mountz.

Miller was the winner; Bruce Feicht took the loss.

Old Dutch and Shaffer Ford meet again tonight at 8 in the best of three series. Herron Transfer and Old Dutch will tangle at 9.

Carl's Tavern assured itself of third place in the Class A standings with its victory over Theron's.

Leg Lanfried led the 11-hit attack of the winners, Murph Sosby was the losing hurler. Gerry Bryson was given the win.

The Italian Club moved into a fourth-place tie with Lincoln Machine with its thumping of Eagles.

Biggie Jeffries and Bill Pauline poled the long ball and Wayne Russell struck out 10 in the win.

First three leaders in the league are Marks, Purity Dairy and Carl's Tavern.

Columbiana Council Will Fill Vacancy

COLUMBIANA — Village Council members at their meeting tonight are expected to elect the second interim councilman since the start of the year. The election will fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Wayne Paulson, who was named earlier in the year to serve out the unexpired term of the late councilman Kenneth Gormley. The new councilman undoubtedly will be a Republican, as were both Gormley and Paulson, since four of the five remaining legislators are members of the GOP.

Second reading of an ordinance granting pay raises to all full-time village employees also is expected at tonight's council session. If approved tonight, the measure must go through the formality of one further reading before becoming official. That probably would be at the Aug. 16 meeting.

Mayor E. L. Calvin will present council with the official Ohio Fuel Gas Co. notice of a scheduled Sept. 1 boost in local gas rates under the fuel cost clause of the village's contract with the natural gas supplier. The proposed increase was announced last week.

FELLOWSHIP CLASS of Grace United Church of Christ will hold an outing Saturday in Pavilions 21-22 at East Palestine City Park. A coverdish supper will be served at 5 p.m. following an afternoon of swimming and games. The committee on arrangements includes Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burkey, Eddie Pfau and Larry Snyder.

A two-week daily vacation Bible school is scheduled Aug. 14 through Aug. 26 at the First Presbyterian Church. Daily sessions will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. each week day.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A friend of mine asked me to write this letter. He says he's too mad to spell right. This friend, Louie, took his girl to the track. He gave her a $10 bill and told her to have a good time. She's a dizzy dame who doesn't know one end of a horse from another. Louie is a real expert who studies the racing forms, knows all the percentages and the history of every nag on the turf.

Wouldn't you know it, the dumb broad hits the daily double and cleans up $330. Louie winds up tapped out. This miserable female hands Louie a 10 spot and says, "Thanks Lover Boy, you're a sport."

Louie and I both think she should have split her bundle with him since he staked her. HOW ABOUT IT?—ON HIS SIDE.

Dear Ann: It would have been very ladylike indeed to split the bundle, but apparently she's no lady.

Splitting arrangements always should be made in advance. It avoids hard feelings later. After the daily double has been hit it's too late for calm, rational thinking.

Living In Past

Dear Ann: I have a beautiful daughter who is 18. She has been going with a wonderful young man who wants to be an architect.

I liked this boy from the moment I met him. He reminded me of the most popular boy in our high school. It thrilled me to think that my daughter could be going out with a young man so fine as Jay.

My daughter told me yesterday she and Jay have decided not to go steady any longer and that each of them is going to date others and see how it works out. I was so heartsick I actually cried. I don't think I slept one hour last night.

It worries me that I should take this so hard. If my daughter knew she would think I was crazy. May be I am. Please help me.—

Dear: The romantic fantasies of your youth have revisited you, Mother.

You identify Jay with that kid in high school and you're attempting to relive your girlhood through your daughter.

This is sick. If your unhappiness continues get professional help.

Difficult Adjustment

Dear Ann: I despise the word stepmother and I always have. When I married a widower 10 months ago I hoped his 16-year-old daughter would call me mother. Her own mother died when she was 14.

The girl insists on introducing me to everyone as her stepmother. When I hear those words it goes through me like a blade.

Shall I be frank and ask her to please call me mother? I need your objective advice.—H.D.

Dear H.D.: This girl probably has vivid memories of her own mother and is unable to bring herself to call someone else by this name.

Try to understand what a difficult adjustment this is for the girl and don't interpret the title "stepmother" as a rejection of you.

Confidentially

TO LIVING DANGEROUSLY AND LOVING IT: The kind of fling you describe could fling you right out of the house. You're being foolish. Grow up.

TO BITTER HERBS: Always remember never to use the words "always" and "never."

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

There Are Many Causes of Appetite Whims

Variations in appetite are a constant source of wonderment and dismay to the housewife whose many chores include meal planning, marketing and preparation of food.

She has to cater to the boys who are "eating her out of house and home," the daughter who's "picky and choosy," the husband who won't eat vegetables, this one who loads everything with salt, that one who douses everything with catchup and the other one who suddenly decided to go on strike against milk.

Each of us also notes variations in our own appetites at different times and under differing conditions. There are times when we "go off our feed" entirely. Other times we just seem unable to fill a seemingly endless pit.

SOMETIMES WE go on a candy binge and other times we have a steak hunger, or our wives complain that we choose foods in restaurants that we leave on our plates at home.

For many of these appetite whims, there often is a valid explanation. Sometimes, for example, loss of appetite (anorexia) is due to an obvious cause like a toothache, a sore mouth, or dentures that don't fit.

Disgust produced by greasy to be sure, slovenly service, unpleasant cooking odors or the appearance of food that looked as if it had been previously chewed are also appetite killers.

4-H Club News

Greenford Silver Spurs

Plans for an overnight trail ride Monday and booth and stall decorations for the Canfield Fair were discussed at a recent meeting of Greenford Silver Spurs 4-H Club in Green Township Memorial Park.

Susan Jones demonstrated western horsemanship. The group will meet again Thursday.

Winona Jolly Bunch
Plans to hold an outing Aug. 11 at Firestone Park were made at a meeting of the Winona Jolly Bunch held recently in the home of Joyce John of D 1, Hanover.

Nineteen members answered roll call by giving suggestions for a fair booth. Joyce John demonstrated how to make a "shake up" sugar and spice dressing, Cathy Cooper showed how to sew a binding stitch, Dorothy Mountz told what should be included in a sewing box and Doris Vincent explained how to freeze foods.

Devotions were given by Betty Fleming. The group sang "Tell Me Why" and "The Old Rugged Cross" with Joyce Arthur as leader. Mary Lou Brantingham and Carole Jean Copeck were in charge of entertainment.

BECOMES PRESIDENT
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Alberta Crowe, Liverpool, N. Y., businesswoman, took over Monday as the new president of the women's International Bowling Congress, Inc., which has headquarters here.

Mrs. Crowe will serve a three-year term. She will be the bowling group's fourth president in its 44-year history.

KENTUCKY MOVES IN
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A section of Cincinnati will become a part of the commonwealth of Kentucky next month. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle issued a proclamation to that effect Monday so that members of the Kentucky Association of Mutual Insurance Agents, who meet only on Kentucky soil, can hold a convention in Cincinnati Sept. 11-13.

KILLED IN COLLISION
AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Minnie Snyder, 76, of Pinellas, Fla., was killed Monday in an auto-truck collision on the Ohio Turnpike a mile east of the Akron interchange. She was thrown from a car driven by her husband, Daniel, 73, when it crashed into the side of a tractor-trailer rig and was crushed beneath the wheels of the trailer.

Turnpike police said Snyder had passed five vehicles when he suddenly pulled his car into the side of the cab of the tractor-trailer. Snyder was uninjured as was the truck driver, Maurice Sanders, 38, of Chambersburg, Pa.
